Report to Partnership Meeting 24 November 2017

PARTNERSHIP

National Transport Strategy

PURPOSE OF REPORT

To update the Partnership Board on the National Transport Strategy Review including the coproduction approach being taken and how this is supported by a range of Partnership and Thematic Working Groups.

Summary

- In August 2016, the Minister announced that the National Transport Strategy (NTS) will be subject to a comprehensive review. The review will develop a successor strategy that sets out a compelling vision for transport over the next 20 years.
- We have set out an approach that is focused on collaborative working with our partners, developing a robust evidence base and engaging with stakeholders and citizens across Scotland to give them a greater say in the development of transport policy.
- Our collaborative approach involves a wide variety of internal and external stakeholders, who will meet regularly to develop the successor NTS with us through our working groups and partnership forums.
- We will deliver a wide programme of engagement across Scotland to ensure that transport users also have an opportunity to feed into the NTS process.
- The NTS Review will work towards a formal public consultation on a draft strategy in early 2019 with a view to publishing the successor strategy in July 2019.
- Details of our plans regarding collaborative working, evidence gathering and indicative timeline are detailed below.

Early Engagement Survey

- An early engagement online survey that sought responses on the opportunities and challenges facing transport over the next 20 years was launched in December 2016 and closed on 31 March 2017. A total of 614 responses were received, of which 76 were from groups or organisations and 538 from individual members of the public.
- The analysis of responses to the survey was published on the Transport Scotland website on 1st June 2017: https://www.transport.gov.scot/publication/national-transport-strategy-early-engagement-consultation-survey/

- Responses to the survey highlighted key themes that were particularly important to respondents, including:
  - promoting active travel;
  - o environmental issues;
  - high quality integrated public transport;
  - o rural and island connectivity;
  - o accessibility and affordability; and
  - o the quality of our road network
- The survey responses also indicated broad support for the three national transport outcomes featured in the 2006 NTS.
- Following the conclusion of the early engagement online survey we are now moving to extend the collaborative ethos of the review further. We have developed a plan for full-scale, Scotland-wide stakeholder engagement which will culminate in a public consultation in the early part of 2019.
- The responses to the survey have informed the means by which full-scale stakeholder engagement will progress through online channels, social media, existing working groups and forums, dedicated events, special interest groups and community engagement.

Call for Evidence

- The NTS Research and Evidence Group launched a Call for Evidence to a wide variety of stakeholders and partnership working groups on Wednesday 5th April 2017. The Call closed on Friday 14th July 2017.
- The Call asked for submissions of evidence (from all sectors and interested parties: academic, public, private and third sectors) to address questions grouped around seven key themes:
  - o Economic growth and inclusive growth
  - Transport mode choice and demand
  - o Environmental impact of transport
  - Active travel (e.g. walking and cycling)
  - Safe and resilient transport
  - Transport governance
  - o Potential changes in society and technology
- Full details of the questions asked and further information about the Call can be accessed at: https://www.transport.gov.scot/consultation/national-transport-strategy-call-for-evidence/
- A total of 62 responses were received by the end of July 2017, including detailed submissions from a wide variety of sectors and modal interests. The initial analysis of the evidence received is being conducted by Transport Analytical Services within Transport Scotland.

 Submissions to the Call and summaries of the evidence received produced by the NTS Research and Evidence Group will be shared with NTS Working Groups and made publically available at the end of this year.

Strategic Framework

- The Strategic Framework group is in the process of developing the NTS vision and objectives (currently at version 0.3 which will be referred to at the National Transport Event on Tuesday 7th November), with a view to finalising these in December 2017. Working versions have been shared with the NTS Review Board, Partnership Group and with internal stakeholders and feedback has helped to shape the current version.
- The Strategic Framework group will meet for the fifth time on Wednesday 29th November to refine the current framework and develop the first draft of the vision. These updates will then be circulated to the Reference Group, Partnership Group and Working Groups for their review and comment.

Scenario Modelling

- In late October, Transport Scotland commissioned a consultant to assist with scenario modelling work and workshops will be set up with Transport Scotland colleagues to help the consultant gain further understanding of the work involved.
- Professor Glenn Lyons is likely to assist the consultant to develop the tool that is expected to shape strategic outcomes, establish priorities and test the range of policy suggestions from Working Groups. The development of the scenario modelling tool will last around six months, followed by options testing. The consultant has requested input from members of the Strategic Framework Working Group over the course of the project.

Partnership and Working Groups

- Three support groups have been convened to assist in the progress of the NTS Review:
  - NTS Review Reference Group
  - NTS Review Scottish Government Advisory Group
  - o NTS Review Partnership Group
- The following lists show the members of each group, as of November 2017.

4. Working Groups

• Three Functional groups are helping to deliver the fundamental building blocks for the review process: Research and Evidence; the Strategic Framework group; and the review of Transport Roles and Responsibilities.

- Four Thematic groups are addressing wider facets of the review under the themes;
   Enabling Economic Growth, Tackling Inequality, Greener & Healthier and Delivering Safe and Resilient Transport.
- All Thematic groups met for the first time in August and September 2017 and the second meetings are being convened in November and December 2017. All meetings are chaired (or co-chaired) by external parties with at least one member of the NTS Review team listed as a member for each group.
- Chairs/co-chairs are able to invite additional members to their Working Groups as required but overall numbers should be kept at a manageable level. Guest speakers can also be invited to deliver presentations on subjects relevant to the group's discussion.

NTS Review timeline

RISK REGISTER

RTS Delivery

Impact - Positive

Comment – RTP input to the NTS process and the co-production approach that Transport Scotland have given to the work facilitates an opportunity to provide a link from the refreshed RTS of the NTS development process.

Policy

Impact - Positive

Comment – The NTS will give greater consideration to key policy areas for HITRANS including aviation than has been the case in earlier NTS development and the light touch refresh completed in 2016.

Financial

Impact - Positive

Comment – The Roles and responsibilities work associate with the NTS will consider transport governance and offers an opportunity for Government (both local and national) to assert the opportunity that RTPs offer as accountable bodies with a statutory foundation and where relevant to develop them for greater regional delivery of transport services and functions.

Equality

Impact - positive

Comment – The NTS will link to the Equality Act and offers an opportunity to support the implementation of measures related to the Accessible Travel Framework and to ensure that organisations involved in the delivery of transport services and functions reflect gender and equality duties.
